Dear Brett,

I can confirm that National Schools Training supports the following qualifications

- City & Guilds Level 4 Diploma for School Business Managers
- City & Guilds Level 5 Diploma for School Business Leaders

These qualifications provide the knowledge and skills required to be effective in a management role within a school at either level 4 or level 5. These qualifications have been developed in cooperation with the National Association of School Business Management (NASBM) and are linked to the NASBM Professional Standards.

We will deliver these qualifications to support the development of aspiring and current school business professionals.

Yours sincerely

Lee Povah

Director
National Schools Training
