

ILM Level 3

Award and Certificate in Mentoring

Who are these qualifications for?

The Level 3 Award and Certificate in Mentoring are designed for people in their first management roles, such as team leaders and first-line managers. They are ideal for individuals seeking to develop the skills, knowledge and confidence to mentor people as part of their normal working role.

Benefits for individuals

- Learn about mentoring as a powerful development tool
- Understand the role and responsibilities of good mentors
- Explore different mentoring models
- Put your new skills into practice in your job – carry out supervised mentoring sessions
- Analyse, assess and plan to improve your own mentoring ability.

Benefits for employers

- Implement mentoring at first-line management level in your organisation
- Ensure the managers you develop as mentors are properly equipped with the skills, knowledge and ethical understanding they need
- Develop a culture of mutual support for performance development by ensuring your managers can act as truly effective mentors.

There are three mandatory units in each qualification. 'Understanding good practice in workplace mentoring' covers what mentors do and how they do it. 'Reflecting on workplace mentoring skills' will give individuals the tools to analyse and improve their own performance as a mentor. 'Undertaking mentoring in the workplace' requires learners to plan and carry out at least six hours of mentoring, with supervision and support.

At Certificate level, this unit is replaced by 'Undertaking an extended period of mentoring in the workplace', which requires at least 36 hours of mentoring for a deeper level of skill and experience.

Progression

This qualification will provide progression opportunities to other qualifications such as:

- ILM Level 3 Certificate in Mentoring
